Brother shoots brother, Mitchell man being held

By Dennis Grubaugh
Managing editor

EDWARDSVILLE — The brother of a Mitchell man is being held in Madison County Jail, pending charges in connection with the Wednesday shooting death of his brother.

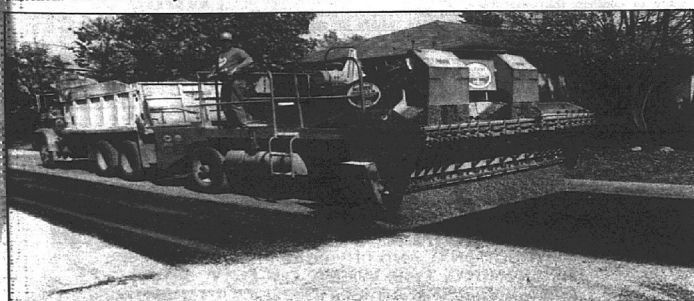

The victim, Terry Scott Borowski, 26, of the 200 block of Warsaw Lane was reported shot at the home of his brother in the 500 block of Fleming in Mitchell. Madison County Sheriff Bob Churchich said the brother is not yet being identified, but has admitted responsibility.

The city directory identifies the brother at the Fleming residence as Ronald M. Borowski, a welder at a Pontoon Beach business.

"The incident was reported to the Sheriff's Department at 2:42 p.m. Wednesday by a relative of the deceased," a statement from Churchich said.

Rape warrant delayed, Venice police unhappy

VENICE — Police, unhappy with the county state's attorney's office in past cases, are distraught again, this time over processing of an alleged rape.

Police said the rape occurred Oct. 14 in a vacant home on Robin Street. The victim is an East St. Louis woman, 28, and the suspect is a Madison man, 25.

The county has revoked the probation of the suspect, who pleaded guilty last month to felony possession of cocaine.

The case has been delayed due to a request for more information from the police department, made by assistant State's Attorney Randy G. Massey.

Police Chief Farris Smith said he and his officers are not happy with the delay in filing a charge. The information could be important, Smith said, but he said there is no reason filing a charge should depend on it.

"What would they have done with him if they hadn't been able to keep him on the probation violation? Turn him loose?"

"The girl had been raped and there was probable cause enough to issue a warrant against him for rape," Smith said.

The suspect was caught asleep and naked in a vacant house in the 1200 block of Robin Street where the rape occurred, Smith said.

Homicide charge dismissal to be reconsidered today

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

EDWARDSVILLE — Madison County State's Attorney Bill Haine today will ask an associate circuit judge to reconsider dismissal of a reckless-homicide charge involving the hit-and-run death of a Granite City boy.

A hearing is scheduled for today at 1 p.m. at the county courthouse in Edwardsville.

The charge against Elisa Smith, 30, of East St. Louis was dismissed Tuesday by Associate Judge Larry Keshner who ruled that the 120-day speedy trial period had expired in the case. Smith was then released from custody.

Police said Smith was the driver of a car that struck and killed Darren A. Elliot, 16, on June 12 as he walked across Illinois 3 near Niedringhaus Avenue. Smith was reportedly driving between 60 mph and 65 mph without headlights when she struck Elliot. Witnesses reported she did not slow down after the accident.

Smith was arrested on Pontoon Road by Granite City Police shortly after the accident, about four miles from the accident scene. She was charged at that time with driving under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs and leaving the scene of a fatal accident.

Granite approves liquor license increase

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — To the disappointment of most of the people who packed the chambers, the City Council created 16 new-style package liquor licenses Tuesday by a 4-5 vote.

The new Class BB license applies to stores with at least $500,000 annual retail sales excluding liquor and gasoline. Specifically, it is designed to allow major food, drug and other retail stores to sell package liquor in addition to their standard items.

Supporters of the authorizing ordinance have said Granite City is one of the only cities in the area where the sale of liquor at these types of stores is not standard practice. The city, it has been said, must change to remain competitive.

The aldermen voted five times to allow opponents of the ordinance to address the council and then voted to let everyone who wanted to address the council do so. Although they were technically limited to five minutes each, no clock was kept on those speaking.

The opponents who spoke generally praised the city for being one of the few area municipalities that limit the number of package licenses. They objected to a proliferation of places selling liquor.

"I do not want to live in a skid row community," said the Rev. Dale Edwards, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church. "There are communities with liquor stores everywhere. They are known as slums."

Among others who spoke against the ordinance, the Rev. Eddy Brown, pastor of the Tri-City Park Tabernacle, said he has "not committed intellectual suicide" and does not believe it is possible to legislate morality. But he challenged the aldermen to submit the issue to a referendum and let the people decide whether they want more places selling liquor in their community.

Jan Gitch, owner of the Coral Liquor Store in Granite City, said convenience stores are staffed with young people who PONTOON BEACH — Higher retail liquor license fees and an increase in the number of Class A licenses were approved Tuesday night by the Board of Trustees.

An ordinance amending classification and license fees, plus the maximum number of licenses available, was approved by the board with only Trustee Robert Douglas casting a dissenting vote.

Class A licenses for the sale of alcoholic liquor for consumption on premises were increased from three to six by the action.

At the present time, three Class A licenses are in force with a potential for three additional licenses needed, Village Clerk Mary Warren said.

The number of Class B licenses for the sale of liquor in sealed containers and not for consumption on the premises remains at seven.

The action primarily affects taverns or restaurants which sell liquor for consumption by the drink but also sell package liquor. Such businesses will be required to pay an annual fee of $600, plus an additional $150 fee for the off-premises license, for a total of $750.

The previous fee was a grand total of $600 for having both an on- and off-premises license.

Class B licenses for packaged liquor sales will remain at $600 annually.

In other business, purchase of a 1990 Chevrolet Caprice auto through a state purchasing agreement for a total price of $12,850 was recommended by the village Police Committee and referred to

The Rev. Robert Jones, pastor of the Grace Baptist Church, said his experience as a counselor has shown him that money spent on alcohol results in children having to go hungry; it is the major cause of divorce and it destroys individuals mentally, he said.

In the floor debate, 4th Ward Alderman Dan Brown argued against the ordinance because he said he was not convinced it would benefit the city financially. He objected to giving the mayor control of how many licenses are available and he said it would make it easier for teen-agers to obtain alcohol.

Brown made a motion to amend the ordinance to permit granting a liquor license to any establishment that sold or distributed

GRANITE CITY — The lawyer for residents of Cote Brillante will try to get a neighboring businessman cited for contempt of court next month for violating a court order prohibiting him from bringing heavy equipment down the street.

Gordon Geil, proprietor of Geil's RV Sales, moved his business this summer onto a 17-acre field annexed by Granite City. Cote Brillante, a one-block street in Chouteau Township is the only access to the property, located just north of Interstate 270 off Illinois Route 3. St. Thomas Road, north of East Chain at Rocks Road, connects with Cote Brillante.

Geil had been using an old agricultural path off Route 3 after a group of Cote Brillante residents filed suit, saying the road is private property. Last week, the Illinois Department of

Jury awards $167,000 for libelous memo

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY—A former employee of a Granite City firm was awarded $167,000 by a jury which decided the firm had libeled him in a company memo written in 1983.

James Aubuschon, 38, of Mount Olive was awarded $12,000 for lost wages and $150,000 in punitive damages by a Madison County jury on Wednesday. Circuit Judge George Moran Jr. presided.

The lawsuit, filed against International Mill Service of Granite City, had been in court since March 1984.

"I know it is not that big a judgment by Madison County standards," said John Hopkins of Granite City, attorney for Aubuschon. "But I think it is important. It is a clear signal to employers that they have to treat employees with respect."

"They have to respect employ-

— John Hopkins

ees' right of privacy and they have a responsibility to check the facts before they go out and start circulating things."

A spokesman for IMS declined to comment on the case and referred all questions to Ira Blank, a Clayton attorney who represented IMS in the case.

Blank said he "anticipates post-trial motions being filed and an appeal of the verdict."

Records show the memo, written in May 1983 by plant manager Tom Van Den Handel, alleged Aubuschon had attempted to sell a set of company tools.

The memo was sent to a number of people inside the plant and also to United Steelworkers of America Local 2672 and to the International Headquarters of the U.S.W.A.

Actually, Hopkins said, the tools in question belonged to Aubuschon. The attorney said four or five union officials could have verified that fact for the company if they had been asked prior to the memo being sent.

Aubuschon was fired less than a week after the memo was sent. He got his job back through union arbitration, but later left the company on his own; he is currently self-employed in the auto repair business, Hopkins said.

According to both attorneys, the case started in Madison County Court and went to the Illinois Appellate Court, where a summary judgment of dismissal was granted to Blank.

Hopkins appealed the Appellate Court's decision to the Illinois Supreme Court and the summary judgment was overturned, returning it to Madison County for a jury trial.

Blank filed with the U.S. Supreme Court for a hearing, but it refused to consider the case.

The courts determined IMS had "conditional privilege" in writing the memo and that Hopkins was required to prove actual malice through submitting clear and convincing evidence. Actual malice is defined as knowledge that the information was false, or reckless disregard for whether it was false.

Hopkins said part of his problem was convincing the jury Aubuschon's reputation had been damaged.

"It was so reckless, it was such a big lie, that no one believed it," he said. "The union, his peers, knew right away it was false, that the tools belonged to (Aubuschon)."

"So, it was hard to convince someone he had been held up to ridicule before his peers."

Hopkins said he believes that was the reason the punitive damages awarded were so much higher than the actual damages. Hopkins said the suit had not asked for a specific dollar amount in damages, but that $150,000 in punitive damages is "telling employers they will be punished" if they act recklessly with the truth.

Blank said that Hopkins, in his final argument, asked the jury to award Aubuschon $38,000 in actual damages and $800,000 in punitive damages.

"I think the difference between $38,000 and $17,000 and between $800,000 and $150,000 speaks for itself," Blank said.

Ephesians 4:26 "...Be angry and sin not..."

Have you ever wondered why, a God of love would create a people capable of anger? It's absolutely true!

God always knows just what He is doing. In His wisdom, He could foresee that some of us could never be motivated except by becoming angry.

Angry people act. They work, vote, protest, or join up. Anger moves us. I'm convinced that anger, under control, is almost as powerful as love. God knew what He was doing!

Here is God's word to us, "Be angry and sin not." Keep it under control. Do not let it dominate you. Do not let it cause you to sin. Neglect God, nor against your neighbor.

Go ahead, be angry and enjoy it!

"I'd understand it if they wanted the girl to take a polygraph (lie detector test), but not this Mickey Mouse stuff when we've already worked the case," Sgt. Biri Reed.

The victim was examined at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and a rape evidence kit was prepared. She also gave a detailed statement to police at 4:55 a.m. Oct. 14, and told officers to the scene.

Massey took the warrant application under advisement, pending receipt of additional evidence, he said in an Oct. 17 memorandum to Venice police.

The suspect had been placed on probation after pleading guilty to a felony count of possession of cocaine on Sept. 29, Venice police said. He is in custody in the Madison County Jail.

State's Attorney Bill Haine said Wednesday that as soon as Massey discovered the suspect was on probation the probation was revoked.

"He is in Madison County Jail. He is not going anywhere. The victim is protected," Haine said.

The things requested are things to do with a rape investigation. That's what this is, he is under investigation for rape. If and when the investigation merits it, rape charges will be filed.

"Do we charge someone based just on an allegation? I don't. That would mean no one was safe."

Haine said it was senseless to speculate what would have happened if the suspect had not been on probation.

"What if he hadn't been on probation? If a frog had wings he wouldn't wear his ass out hopping," Haine said.

"That's an old Wood River saying. The fact is he is on probation, it was revoked and he is in jail."

Assistant State's Attorney Massey asked police to:

•Attempt to obtain consent

from the suspect for drawing of blood to be sent to a laboratory with the rape kit.

•Document the ownership of the residence.

•Conduct an interview with the owner to confirm that the suspect had no authority to be there.

Massey also said he would like for Venice police to obtain a laboratory analysis of a possible controlled substance, thought to be cocaine, found at the scene.

"Why hold it (the warrant) up for more information on something as simple as calling the guy who owns the property on the phone to see if they had permission to be there? It just doesn't make sense," Sgt. Reed said.

"It's hokey pokey stuff and it's happened to us before," Smith said.

The victim said she was approached by the suspect at Garrett's El Capalero Lounge in the 900 block of Jackson Street, Madison, where he asked her to dance.

The couple left the tavern and, while they were walking down a street, the suspect grabbed her by the neck and threatened to "blow her head off," she alleged.

He then marched her up some steps into a vacant house, taking her to the second floor of the building, where he again made threats. The rape followed, police said.

Old Newsboys helps 5 local agencies

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

QUAD CITY AREA — Old Newsboys Day 1988 raised more than $270,000 for charitable agencies last year, and five of the 230 organizations benefitting from the campaign are right here at home.

Each recipient group used its Old Newsboys funds for a specific need, ranging from educational tools to baby blankets and special equipment for handicapped youngsters.

Local beneficiaries of last year's funds were:

•Church Women United of the Quad City Area, $800 for day-care scholarships.

•Catholic Charities, $1,992 for baby clothing, blankets and diapers.

•Coordinated Youth Services, $1,272 for classroom furniture.

•The Salvation Army, $546 for guitars and cases for classes.

•Mental Health Services, Southern Madison County, for the Parents Plus Program, $1,922 for books, pamphlets and videos on prevention of teen pregnancy and on teen parent education.

Coordinated Youth Services is headquartered at 1224 Niedringhaus Ave., Granite City. But its programs reach into all facets of family life in all area communities — from spearheading programs to reduce teen-age drug and alcohol abuse, and operating alternative school and truancy programs, to helping women, children and infants.

With its $1,272 gift from the 1988 Old Newsboys Day drive, the agency furnished desks and chairs for the new Vocational Career Option program at a satellite classroom area at 1308 Niedringhaus Ave. CVS Executive Director Donna Daisy said.

Geared to high school age youths, the Vocational Career Option provides job readiness skills, along with basic academic training with emphasis on attitude, the work ethic and values, Daisy said.

Twenty-four students were served through the program last year and the same number of students is enrolled this year.

The training also focuses on job interviews and placement, and unsubsidized employment for participants upon completion of their studies, Daisy said.

Nineteen of the 24 going through the program last year found jobs, Lillian Douglas of the CVS staff said.

The hourly pay level of all the successful students went from the minimum wage to a higher rate of pay and as high as $8.78 an hour for one of the youths, Douglas said.

CVS administers the program on a contract basis for the Job Training Partnership Act agency, which funds the program, Daisy said.

Old Newsboys will be out to force once again in the early morning hours of Thursday, Nov. 16, offering a special edition of the Suburban Journals.

Donations accepted on street corners will aid many charitable and service organizations throughout the bi-state metropolitan area. Every penny raised will go to help children.

Port district issues bonds

By Andy Siering
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The Tri-City Regional Port District closed an agreement yesterday for issuance of $3,515,000 in $5,000-denomination revenue bonds to finance improvements at the port.

Proceeds from the bonds will be used to build a 150,000-square-foot Foreign Trade Zone warehouse and supporting roads and sewers at an estimated cost of $3.3 million.

The remaining money will be used to pay for the costs of issuing the bonds and to meet the first year's interest, port officials said.

The PTZ warehouse will be operated by The Delivery Network Inc., headquartered at 1603 State St. in Granite City.

All of the 25-year bonds were purchased by the Southwestern Illinois Development Authority, which will issue its own bonds to recover the amount of the loan.

The port bonds carry an annual interest rate of 7.9 percent, payable twice yearly. The bond registrar is Continental Bank of Chicago.

The bond issue brings the total bond indebtedness of the port district (incurred in issues of 1964, 1988 and the current issue) to $6,130,000, with an annual debt service of $657,570, according to the bond ordinance.

Clarification

Patricia Gonwa, who had applied for one of the two recent vacancies on the Belleville Area College board, was quoted Wednesday as refusing to comment on her qualifications for the board when called by a reporter. In actuality, Gonwa told the reporter she would meet with him personally, but would not discuss the issue by phone. Gonwa said she had received crank phone calls during an earlier election bid and was wary of discussing her candidacy over the phone. She said the reporter declined to meet with her. Though she did not get appointed, Gonwa said she felt she is qualified for a future board opening, because of her Granite City educational background.

Contempt

Transportation blocked that route, but vehicles are still finding their way in.

Circuit Judge Paul Riley issued a temporary restraining order Sept. 7 prohibiting Gell from bringing heavy equipment down Cote Brilliante and prohibiting the residents of the street from interfering with Gell, his customers or employees.

Cote Brilliante has never been formally accepted by any governmental body, although Chouteau Township has maintained the road and sold lots along it, had said it would be a private road maintained by its residents.

Whether it is a private road will be one of the issues decided in the case. The case will be heard Wednesday, Nov. 8, in the East Alton courtroom of Circuit Judge Daniel J. Stack. Officials of Chouteau Township and Madison County are expected to be called to testify.

The attorney for the residents, Mark Spengler of Granite City, said he will call witnesses and present pictures that will prove Gell has been violating the restraining order by bringing construction equipment and trucks down Cote Brilliante.

Gell, however, denies that he has "knowingly violated" the court order. He said one tractor-trailer rig had come down the road, belonging to a man who was storing it on his property until next spring. He said a dump truck that came down the road yesterday belonged to a construction company doing work on Route 3. "They drove down to buy propane from me," Gell said.

He said the truck that brought in the trusses for a building on his property had come and gone on the Route 3 side. Gell said vehicles could still get in and out of his property by that route, despite IDOT's action.

Gell's attorney is Irv Slate.

Second Ward Alderman Jim Miller, 4th Ward Alderman Dan

Partney and 1st Ward Alderman Casmer Skubish all argued that, while it is the responsibility of the educators and clergy to warn people of the dangers of drug and alcohol abuse, an effort the city is willing to support, it is still the city's responsibility to provide a "level playing field" for competition in a free enterprise system.

Partney made a motion to amend the ordinance, which placed no limit on the number of Class BB licenses available, to set a limit of 16 licenses. The amendment passed 10-4.

The ordinance as amended passed 9-5 with Brown, 3rd Ward

Shooting

Borowski was pronounced dead at 3:43 p.m. after arrival at the St. Elizabeth's Medical Center in Granite City. An autopsy will be conducted by the Madison County Coroner's Office.

Coroner Dallas Burke said Borowski died "from multiple gunshot wounds." It is believed the victim was shot four or five times, in the upper chest area.

The shooting was held overnight by the sheriff's office pending review of the case by the state's attorney's office.

Michelle residents describe Fleming Street as a quiet, attractive residential neighborhood.

According to Press-Record files, Terry Borowski had run afoul of the law on different occasions. One incident involved delivery of controlled substances in 1984, another involved battery in 1985. He received probation in the first case and served 24 days in county jail for the second.

the Finance Committee. Douglas, a Police Committee member, said the village should take the opportunity to get a new car for the department under the state purchasing agreement.

Trustee Loren Madison questioned why another car was needed and asked whether one of the present number of cars is being replaced.

"We may be replacing one," Douglas said.

"We've probably got two that could go to the junk yard," Police Chief Chet Ballew said.

Mayor Glen Wilson noted that the village is growing.

"We've got 18 square miles and have at least two cars running 24 hours a day," he said.

The department has five squad cars and the police chief's car. Mileage for the village ranges from 45,000 to more than 168,000 miles, it was reported.

"If we can decide right now to junk one car I'll vote for it, but not to increase the number of cars," Madison said.

When no decision could be reached on junking a car, both Madison and Trustee Louis Whitcomb voted against purchasing another squad car.

The proposal was referred to the Finance Committee for its recommendation prior to final action.

Aldermen Paul Fisk, 5th Ward Aldermen Lloyd Bailey and Ginny O'Bear and 7th Ward Alderman Emerald Dawes voting no. Skubish, Miller, Partney, 1st Ward Alderman Frank Scarsdale, 2nd Ward Alderman Virgil Kambarian, 3rd Ward Alderman Andy Timko, 6th Ward Alderman Judy Whitaker and Walter Milton and 7th Ward Alderman Jeff Worthen voted yes.

Mayor Von Dee Cruse said "for the record" that he supported the ordinance and, if it had been a tie, would have voted yes.

Dismissal

Assistant Madison County State's Attorney Greg Erthal says that for the case, said Tuesday, "The case is far from over. We are filing motions for a rehearing, and if they are denied, we will file an appeal."

Erthal contends he and Assistant Public Defender Neil Hawkins, who represents Smith, met Aug. 14 and Hawkins agreed to continue the case until the September docket. Hawkins, he said, had agreed to file an order to that effect, but apparently never did.

"That delay should have been attributable to him — the time from Aug. 14 until the September docket. I said, and I still contend, I have about 21 days left to try the case."

He (the public defender) says he doesn't remember the meeting and I have to take him at his word. But I clearly remember it. All he had to do was grab an order and check some boxes."

Hawkins said he had no memory of meeting with Erthal concerning continuance of the Smith case.

"If I had agreed to continue the case, I would have filed a motion. Hawkins said, 'I think the state's attorney is mistaken as to the facts.'"

Hawkins said Wednesday afternoon he had not been notified of today's hearing.

Keshner originally ruled that since there was no order filed there were no delays attributable to the defendant in the record.

"The judge was just wrong," Erthal said. "I am really kind of beside myself."

"It was not our fault. The case is not really over. We intend to pull out all guns on this."

Assistant Police Chief Ron Selph said Tuesday the Granite City Police Department is very disappointed at the apparent outcome of the case, but deferred all other comments to the State's Attorney's Office.

Trivia

A slang term used by Illinois residents for Missouri natives, Missourians, was found in the writings of Walt Whitman, Carl Sandberg and Vachel Lindsay. Local legend says it originated as inevitable result of drunk Missourians returning home across the Mississippi on ferries.

Witnesses concerned

Angelo Bruno, presiding overseer of the Granite City congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, has announced the congregation's concern over religious persecution that is presently taking place in the African land of Burundi.

"Few people were aware of Burundi's existence until August, 1988, when it got worldwide publicity when a dispute erupted between its two major ethnic groups, the Tutsi and the Hutu. This is no doubt left a negative impression of Burundi on the minds of many," Bruno said.

"Although 80 percent of Burundi profess to be Christian, the political regimes there have set a disturbing pattern of religious intolerance," Bruno said. On Feb. 16, it was announced on the radio in Burundi that one of the big problems Burundi faced was the expansion of Jehovah's Witnesses, and the governors of interior provinces initiated a wave of persecution.

Coolidge parent-teacher talks set Wednesday, Thursday Nov. 1-2

Coolidge Junior High School will hold parent-teacher conferences on Wednesday, Nov. 1, and Thursday, Nov. 2.

All parents are encouraged to attend and talk with teachers, administrators and counselors.

"This is an excellent opportunity for parents to learn what their children are doing during the day. Parents will be free to walk through the building and talk with teachers of their choice," a spokesman said.

"Report cards should be picked up inside the front entrance and used as a guide for visits to teachers. The conferences are designed for parents and teachers to discuss ways to help the child improve. "Students should not accompany their parents unless specifically requested to do so by an individual teacher."

The conference schedule is: Wednesday, Nov. 1, 8 to 11:30 a.m., and 12:30 to 3 p.m.; and Thursday, Nov. 2, noon to 4 p.m., and 5 to 8 p.m.

Edgar introduces PEERS program

Secretary of State Jim Edgar has unveiled a statewide program in which high school students teach 5th and 6th graders how to resist peer pressure to drink alcohol.

PEERS, or Promoting Effective Education in Resistance Skills, "is a direct assault against the peer pressure that traps many young people into drinking alcohol against their better judgment," Edgar said.

"We are going to fight peer pressure with peer pressure."

"High school students are old enough to command the respect and admiration of 5th and 6th graders, but young enough to be regarded as peers."

"They can communicate in ways teachers, parents and police cannot. The message is that young people have certain rights they should not forfeit in order to have friends or be popular."

The culmination of eight months of planning and training, PEERS will use high school age instructors who can explain the subtle and not-so-subtle ways in which peers make one another do things they would rather not do. Aided by role-playing, handouts and posters, students will learn techniques for resisting peer pressure to drink.

"The most urgent reason to discourage underage drinking is the danger of drunk driving," Edgar said. "It is also important to recognize that alcohol is the most popular drug among today's youth. Too often, efforts to stamp out drug abuse ignore alcohol abuse."

"Too many people think that it comes in a powder or pill. It's a drug but if it comes in a shot glass or bottle it's just a drink."

Ninety teens from 11 high schools and other organizations participated in a two-day conference Oct. 7-8. Ranging in age from 14 to 19, they were trained to teach 50-minute lessons on different kinds of peer pressure and methods for resisting each type. The conference was sponsored by the Secretary of State's office and was held at McDonald's Hamburger University.

"We are making great progress toward educating teens about the dangers of drinking and driving," Edgar said.

"Between 1986 and 1988, teen DUI arrests declined by 18 percent. But we still have a long way to go and one way to get us there is to start teaching safety at an earlier age."

During 1988, 4,065 drivers under the age of 21 were arrested for driving under the influence in Illinois. Drivers under age 21 represent 10 percent of all licensed drivers but are involved in 17 percent of alcohol-related fatal accidents in Illinois.

Kimmswick's heritage at Apple Butter Festival

By Pamela Seibert
Staff affiliate

One of the tastiest ways to prepare apples is to make them into apple butter. Residents of Kimmswick, a tiny community 15 miles south of St. Louis off Interstate 55, are so fond of the idea they've built a festival around it.

The Apple Butter Festival, an annual event since 1976, also celebrates the early heritage of this German town founded in 1859. It will be held Oct. 28 and 29.

Visitors to the event can tour the town's restored buildings, visit old time crafts and demonstrations, see a working steam engine and a melodrama, listen to folk music, and, of course, buy applebutter.

Apples are brought in from neighboring Illinois, spiced and cooked in six large copper kettles over open fires at the town's "apple butter shed," said Darlene Spink, president of the local historical society.

She said 50 bushels of apples will be made into 750 pints of applebutter to be sold at this year's festival. All festival proceeds go to benefit Kimmswick restoration, she said.

Kimmswick was founded by Theodore Kimsa, a native of Germany, shortly before the Civil War. Following the war, wealthy St. Louisians discovered the town, and began to flock there for their summers. It was a short commute from the city, and could be reached by train, and excursion steamer on the Mississippi.

But with the advent of the automobile, progress in Kimmswick came to a halt. New roads bypassed the town, trains and boats ceased to stop, and it became a nearly forgotten place.

But in 1970, a small group of concerned citizens, members of the local historical society, decided it was time to save their decaying town. Original buildings were restored, other 19th century buildings were moved here and reassembled, and 17 shops moved in. Kimmswick became a "living museum," closely resembling the town it had been more than 100 years earlier.

Five of the early homes (they'll be marked with red banners during the festival) are open for tours. Each is furnished with 19th century decor, and feature such things as early farm tools and wine presses. In one home, the Barbagallo, a frontier storyteller will be on hand to spin tales of animals and "olden" times for children. A magician will also perform.

Artisans will demonstrate such 19th century skills as rug latch-ing, weaving, spinning and chair caning. Two blacksmiths at forges will illustrate the making of square nails and wrought iron cooking utensils. An old-time steam engine will be on hand to "mull" the grind corn.

Free walking tour guides to the town's four-square-block historic district and its more than 40 restored buildings will be available.

Throughout the festival, strolling musicians singing folk songs and accompanying themselves on guitar, fiddle, banjo, even washboard will perform. The old-time melodrama will be performed at the Annex on Market Street. More than 100 craft booths will be set up in Jefferson Park and in the lot adjoining City Hall.

Food will be available at several food booths in the historic district, and the Kimmswick Historical Society will man a food booth offering old-fashioned sausage sandwiches, corn-on-the-cob, biscuits with apple butter, and hot or cold cider.

For visitors with a competitive bent, there'll be games: skittles, throwing for women, hatchet throwing for men.

To reach Kimmswick, take I-55 south to the Imperial exit, and follow signs east, a total of 15 miles from St. Louis. Or, to add a more old-fashioned flavor to the visit, Gateway Riverboat Cruises is offering a trip to Kimmswick on Oct. 29; passengers have the option of traveling to the festival aboard the Huck Finn, then returning to St. Louis by bus, or arriving in Kimmswick by bus, returning to St. Louis on the boat. The boat trip, which includes a buffet, costs $29.50 to $33.50 per person, and reservations are required. Those who wish more information should call (314) 621-4040.

The Apple Butter Festival runs from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days. Those who wish more information should call (314) 464-2739.

St. Boniface fest, boutique Nov. 12

The 30th annual combined St. Boniface Italian festival and Christmas boutique will be held Sunday, Nov. 12, at the St. Boniface Parish Center in the 100 block of North Buchanan, Edwardsville.

The boutique, open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., will feature a broad array of affordably priced, handcrafted holiday decorations, macramé, cross-stitched items, homemade pies, cakes, pastries, and full-sized and baby quilts, sponsors said.

An all-you-can-eat dinner will be served from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. and will include spaghetti or meatloaf with meatballs, fresh baked Italian bread, salad, homemade desserts and a beverage. Dinner tickets, which may be purchased either in advance or at the door, are $5 for adults and $2 for children. Children under age 5 are free.

The public is invited to participate in the event, which has been held as a St. Boniface Home and School Club fund raiser annually since 1959.

GRANITE CITY — It is, after all, the thought that counts. The Warrior soccer team presented Gene Baker with a plaque Tuesday after a 3-0 win over Edwardsville to win the Regional A title of the Edwardsville Sectional. The plaque commemorated Baker's 400th career victory.

There was one small problem, however. The victory was actually Baker's 399th. A couple of discrepancies in his record that weren't verified until Monday accounted for the confusion.

Baker was very appreciative for the plaque, and the victory still provided a reason to celebrate. It gave Baker his 15th regional title in 17 years at Granite City.

The Warriors (15-5-2) will face Springfield (10-2-3) at 5:30 p.m. today in the Edwardsville Sectional semifinals. That game will be played at the Edwardsville Sports Complex football field on Center Grove Road. The Senators beat Springfield Southeast 2-1 Tuesday. Former Warrior Sam Tate is an assistant coach for Phil Eck's club.

"This one better count for two tonight," Baker said before the game, unaware his players had already bought him a plaque with the date inscribed on it. (See SOCCER, Page 4B)

Confusion reigns in quest for 400

Confusion reigned at The Gauntlet on Tuesday, but fortunately it was only on the sidelines.

The Warriors took care of business with their 3-0 victory over Edwardsville for yet another regional championship. But while the players were in total control on the field, there was trouble brewing elsewhere. Everyone — including Gene Baker — thought the Warrior coach was going for his 400th career victory Tuesday. It's a great accomplishment done by only a handful of high school soccer coaches. But it's nice to be sure exactly when it's going to happen.

As Baker got close last week, I looked back over his career record. By adding together his record as it appeared in the 1987 Tournament of Champions program with what the Warriors have done since then, I came up with only 397 wins through the end of the regular season — when Baker thought he had 398.

I asked him about it Saturday and he said he would double check. So did I. I called him Monday morning and we went through it year-by-year. Everything was fine until he read off a 23-2 record for 1987. Now, any year prior to that you could have told me anything and I would have gone for it. But 1987 was my first year covering the Warriors and they won state. And I will remember to my dying day that Herb Heaton's sudden-death goal to win state finished that season at 20-3-2.

Baker agreed. That knocked two wins off his total. But he also had 16 wins down for this season when in fact the Warriors had 17 going into Tuesday's game. Put it all together and the records showed him for one more win than he actually had.

At the beginning of the fourth quarter Tuesday, with the Warriors holding a safe 2-0 lead, inimitable PA announcer Colin Feeney told me the Warriors were going to present Baker with a plaque commemorating No. 400. Uh-oh.

John Van Buskirk, father of the Warriors' leading scorer, had the plaque in a gym bag over in the stands. Over there I headed and broke the bad news. We wrung our hands for a few minutes over what to do. The House of Trophies in Granite City had the date inscribed Oct. 24. We wondered how much it would take to scratch that out and put Oct. 26.

Finally, the senior Van Buskirk had the perfect solution.

"Ah, let's just give it to him tonight and fake it," he said. To add to the comedy, the zipper on the gym bag containing the plaque broke as Van Buskirk opened it. Finally he got it out and I was dispatched back to the bench area with the plaque. I told Feeney, athletic director Greg Patton and John Van Buskirk (the player) about the snafu.

But we agreed to go on with the presentation. Baker was, of course, very appreciative, although he had to smile about the confusion. His parents had come over to see the game and Channel 11 sent a cameraman to film the final minutes.

It was a nice gesture by the players. And now there is even more incentive to beat Springfield tonight and get No. 400 for real. With the plaque in hand, Baker sure doesn't want to wait for next year's season opener to gain the milestone win.

And so it goes.

Lady Warriors' season over

By Mike Kelly

EDWARDSVILLE — Your heart can't always tell your body what to do.

The Lady Warriors were anxiously awaiting their rematch with the Edwardsville Tigers in the opening game of the Class AA Edwardsville Regional on Tuesday. After all, they had something to prove following their convincing loss (15-3, 15-1) on Sept. 6.

But while the heart was willing the body didn't respond. And in return, the host Tigers (19-8) defeated Granite City 15-6, 15-6. The Lady Warriors ended their season at 8-20 while the Tigers advance to tonight's championship game (7 p.m.) against Triad.

The top-seeded Lady Knights (20-3) had an easy time with winless Roxana (0-21) as they knocked off the Shells 15-1, 15-4.

But while the Shells proved to be easy prey, the Lady Warriors gave Edwardsville all it could handle in the early stages of their match.

Granite City broke out to a 3-0 lead in the first game. After the Tigers pulled to within 4-3, the Lady Warriors self-destructed. With Tina Hall serving, the Tigers ran off nine straight points and took a commanding 12-4 lead. Kristin Bair and Staci Born were the enforcers around the net as they produced five kills and a block.

"We just got lazy tonight," said Granite City coach Natalie Buster. "The kids really wanted to win this game, but they just didn't respond. And I'm tired of using the lack of experience as an excuse. I want to get rid of that phrase when describing our team. We didn't move our feet and they caught us out of position. We played them better this time, but as a whole we failed to execute completely."

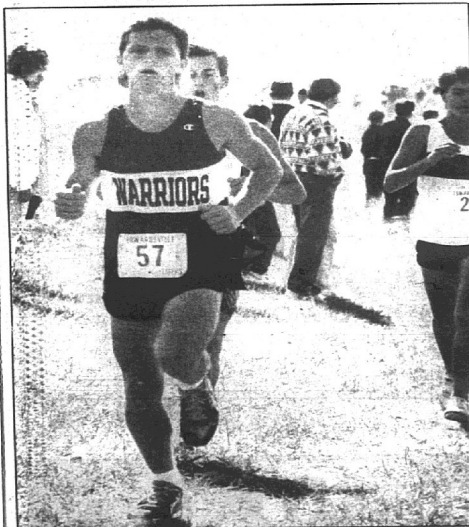

"I was worried about playing Granite City a second time," said Edwardsville coach Mary Kay Hyten. "This is a new season, so you can't underestimate anyone, despite their record. But like we always do, our girls came out of the gate slowly."

The second game practically

GRANITE CITY — A moral victory can establish the foundation of the future for the Warrior cross country team.

Granite City fulfilled its dream of advancing out of the Class AA Edwardsville Regional last weekend. But now the Warriors must put that achievement behind them and face an even bigger challenge at the Springfield Lanphier Sectional on Saturday.

But the Warriors, realizing their youth, are taking a realistic view. Instead of being concerned with advancing out of the sectional, coach Dave McClain is taking a greater interest in individual times and how his runners compete in the strong field.

"Our kids are taking a realistic approach towards this race," said McClain. "They realize it's going to be very tough qualifying out of the sectional, as a team and individually. Our main concern will be to improve our times, compared to the last time we ran at Springfield (Sept. 23), while seeing how the kids compete in such a strong field."

"That's our No. 1 priority. You have to be realistic in this situation. The kids have had a successful season and even though we're not that strong yet, I believe we have a very good chance of finishing in the top ten."

But we're maturing for the future and the experience they gain at the sectional will give them an idea of the competitive level they must reach. And this is a dedicated group of kids, who

Gridders' goal: Knock Lancers out of playoffs

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — A week ago, the season seemed to be dragging to a merciful conclusion for the Warriors.

"Seven more practices," Ron Yates said last Tuesday before the Alton game. And he seemed in a hurry to get it over with.

But another fourth-quarter rally by Yates' team on Friday put new life into the season. Suddenly the Warriors have a chance at a 4-5 record, a 3-2 Southwestern Conference mark and possibly a tie for second place in the conference.

Belleville East at Granite City Friday, 7:30 p.m. at Memorial Stadium

Warriors

Coach: Ron Yates

This season: 3-5

Last week: Beat Alton 14-9

Key players: Bob Thomas 29 of 75, 302 yards passing, 2 TD, 10 int.; Terry Noud 31 carries, 186 yards, 2 TD, 5 catches, 61 yards, 13 returns, 214 yards; Darryn Yates 52 carries, 170 yards, 12 catches, 118 yards, 1 TD, 17 returns, 275 yards; Mike Mueller 42 carries, 155 yards; Steve Evanoff 7 catches, 67 yards.

Lancers

Coach: Mike McGinnis, 8th year, 35-39

Last season: 8-3 (made playoffs)

This season: 5-3

Last week: Beat Belleville West 28-7

Key players: Bill Jordan 150 carries, 729 yards, 7 returns, 119 yards, 5 TD; Delaun Fowler 67 carries, 421 yards, 1 TD; Gary Snep 15 of 46, 197 yards, 2 TD, 5 int.; Jeff Rousseau 3 catches, 71 yards, 1 TD; Tom Miller 9 XP, 4 FG, 21 points.

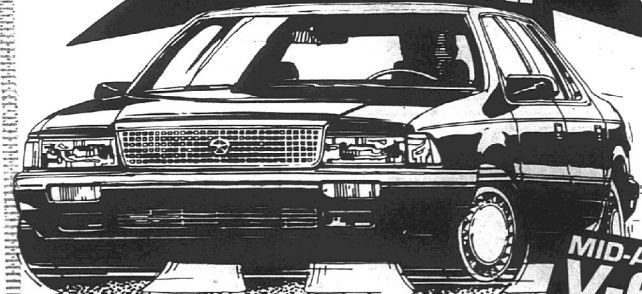

But more than that, they have a chance to spoil a party. It's a party being planned by the Belleville East Lancers. A win at Memorial Stadium by the Lancers tomorrow (7:30 p.m. kickoff) would give them a 6-3 record and probably a spot in the Illinois Class 6A playoffs. A loss to the Warriors means the Lancers (3-1 in the SWC) will be turning in their equipment Monday morning.

There is no doubt the Warriors will be turning in their equipment next week, but they could be doing it with a smile on their faces, something that was hard to do the past two seasons. And more than anything, they could gain for themselves, the chance to deny the Lancers a playoff spot is No. 1 on the list.

America's way to go.

MIKE MUELLER and his teammates have had three chances to celebrate like this after fourth-quarter comebacks in 1989.

"I don't even know if the kids realize we can get a tie for second in the conference," said Yates. "Beating East is the big thing to them. The pressure is on them (Lancers). They're supposed to win. But we finally have something to play for, for the first time since the Cahokia game. I think we have as much incentive or more than East."

The Lancers didn't look much like a playoff team after two weeks. They lost 23-3 to Belleville and 38-0 to Alton. But since then they've gone 5-1, with the lone loss a 20-13 decision to East St. Louis. They lost a bunch of talented seniors from last year's 8-3 playoff squad, but got things going after the 0-2 start.

"But they don't have a real high-powered offense," said Yates. "Take away two big plays against West and they only win 14-7 (they beat the Maroons 28-7 last week). They only beat Collinsville 10-0 and Alton 17-6. So we can stay close, and that's always our goal."

Staying close through three quarters has been the Warriors' secret to victory. All five of their losses have been decisive (average margin of defeat: 32.6 points), but they've come from behind in the fourth quarter for all three wins.

"The one thing we haven't done is completed and lost," said Yates. "We've won all the close ones. So even if we compete well and lose Friday, we can feel good about it. We still want to win, of course."

An inspired defensive effort against Alton came within two big plays of a shutout.

"Brad Massey deserves a lot of credit," said Yates. "Eric Lewis, Joe Thomas and Bryan Neidhardt made some big tackles, but Brad did a great job making a pile to free the other guys up."

The Lancers are mostly a running team, depending on backs Billy Jordan (729 yards) and Delaun Fowler (421 yards). Junior quarterback Gary Snep has only thrown 46 passes in eight games for a 32 percent completion rate.

"They're a dominant running team," said Yates. "They run the Power I and use their size on the line. But their running backs have quickness. We just have to limit the big plays as usual and make them go to Plan B (passing)."

Meanwhile, Yates hopes his offense can play solidly for four

"We should have a good week of practice," Yates said. "Maybe our seniors have arrived. I hope we get done Friday wishing there was another game or two. But I'm drained by this time of year, even in 1988."

"Knocking East out of the playoffs is the big thing. But our seniors should want it because it will be the last game for most of them. There might be a couple who will play small college ball somewhere, but most of them won't put on a helmet again."

Trojans look to close season on winning note

By Mike Kelly

MADISON — For some teams, the final game of the season is a tune up for the post-season. For others it's a stepping stone to next year.

And the Trojans will try to close out their topsy-turvy season on a winning note Friday against Metro East Lutheran at Madison.

Madison (2-6), which came into the season with playoff aspirations, has suffered one disappointment after another.

Problems off the field have continually plagued the Trojans. And this week is no exception. Tony Treadway is academically ineligible for the second time this season, while Paris Johnson, who's been a discipline problem the last two weeks, has left the team.

But coach Don Smith would rather dwell on the positive. "I'm tired of talking about the guys who have let us down," said Smith. "I just want to focus on the positive and forget the riff-raff. We've got some kids who want to play football and we'll go with them."

Closing out on a winning note would give Smith a little satisfaction and something to build on.

"I really want to win this game," said Smith. "This way we can develop something for next season. We only lose one momentum. "But we want dedicated people in this program, not the fly-by-nighters. We'll find out during the winter who really wants to play football. So if you're not playing basketball or on a weight program, then we just don't need your services."

The Trojans will utilize a simple offense on Friday against the Knights. Federico Walker (248 yards of total offense) will be the deep back in the I formation, while freshman James Wellmacker will make his varsity debut at fullback.

"We're going to keep our attack simple," said Smith. "But we'll try to intimidate (MELH) with some of our size on the left side of the line. James will primarily be a blocking back for Walker, but running behind (Greg) Veloski and Demarco (Cason) should provide us with some good yardage."

"We'll split the quarterback duties between Rockett and Cernyn (Thomas) though Thomas will get a lot of playing time because he's our future at that position. We may even start Cernyn, but that's up in the air right now."

"But we're going to win this game. This is a team most suited to our caliber. Like us, they're a small school, which is why I feel we can beat them. We've played the tougher schedule. Now don't get me wrong, we won't blow them out, especially with Treadway out of the lineup, but we're tough enough to win. If we can control the ball, I feel we'll be able to move it on them."

MELH, playing its first year of varsity football, is 3-5, although one of their victories came against Wheaton Christian on a forfeit. But the Knights are pleased with their accomplishments.

"It's been a successful year," said coach Mark Meschke. "But I really expected our kids to learn a little more than they did last year. Our main problem is technique. We can show the kids what to do, but they have to make it a habit by doing those things repeatedly. But it takes time because many of our kids never played organized football before."

"Madison is going to be a good test for our kids. We must contain them with our ends. They have some good athletic talent to go along with great speed. Hopefully, we can match them."

"It's been a crazy year," said Smith. "And nothing surprises me anymore. But we'll do the best we can with what we have and build our program from there."

aren't afraid to work, which is why I feel good about the future of this program."

"I wish we could go to the state tournament, but it's going to be hard to accomplish," said Reynolds.

"This will be a big race for us in the sense that it will tell us what we have to shoot for in the near future. We can use this sectional as a catalyst for next season."

Similar to last week, the Warriors will have an idea of what to expect at the Lincoln Park course in Springfield. In their last encounter there (the Springfield Invitational), Granite City finished 13th in the 20-team field. And McClain feels that will give his team confidence on Saturday.

"It's actually an easier course than the one at St. Edwardsville," said McClain. "It's a flatter course with one short, steep hill which is similar to a ravine. The hill is quick though, and the runners will be able to excel on it."

"But running that course earlier this year will give our kids more confidence in their footing. And we'll run the course again on Friday in preparation for Saturday. But I'm not too worried about our kids because they're very mature for their age."

"They're smart runners with a great deal of savvy. They know it's important to get out quickly at the start of a race, but establishing a pace is their goal during a meet. And our runners have done that on a consistent basis all year, especially Brian Seiz. But running over the summer was the key. The more you run and watch your times, you'll give you the confidence of running your race. It's an inner instinct all runners have. It can't be taught. Either you have it or you don't."

"It's a pretty good course," said Reynolds. "I like to run there, despite that one steep hill. You could call it a killer, but otherwise the course is pretty flat, which is to my advantage."

Reynolds, who completed the course in 16:31 and finished 17th in September, feels his team will have a slight advantage over the likes of Wally Gregory from Civic Memorial and Ramon Lacy of Alton, who have not seen the course this season.

"We know the good spots and the bad spots on the course," said Reynolds. "We know the course a little bit better than some of the teams from this area that haven't competed there before."

"We're looking forward to this challenge," said Seiz, a sophomore. "The work we did this summer has put us in the position we now hold. The course at Lincoln Park will bring about a strong challenge, but with the way we've pushed ourselves this season, I know we'll do well."

"All we want to do is to build a winning tradition. Reaching the top ten on Saturday would be a great achievement. That will tell us we're developing ourselves to compete with the bigger schools down the road."

But while the Warriors are looking to the future, McClain feels the host school, Lanphier, will be the team to beat in the boys competition.

"When it comes down to a crucial race, Lanphier will win it," said McClain. "Their runners tend to peak at regional and sectional time and their school has a great tradition in cross country. Winning is contagious. It brings the kids out. And that's what we're trying to do here. We're still young and inexperienced, but our nucleus has us pointed in the right direction."

NOTES: Brian Reed, who missed the regional last week with a strained calf, is listed as probable for Saturday. "He can't run on the leg, but he is walking on it despite feeling a little bit of pain," said McClain. "But if Brian's healthy to run on Saturday, I'll definitely take him with me."

was a little sloppy in the first half, but the second half more than made up for it. There was a lot of good stuff out there after halftime."

Once again it was the red-hot John Van Buskirk who provided all the offense the Warriors needed. He scored twice, giving him 19 for the season. He scored unassisted at 14:37 on a long shot which fooled Tiger goalie Neil Anderson, who didn't move at all while the ball got by him on the far side.

"It was just a perfect shot," said Edwardsville coach Fran Dwyer, whose team finished at 9-1-2. "It might have dipped a little bit, but even if the goalie had moved I think it would have gone in."

"I didn't think I would score as much as I have this year," said Van Buskirk. "I was just hoping I would score in the big games when it counted."

He's done that with six goals in two post-season games. Van Buskirk also has 11 goals in his last five games.

Danny Weathers made it 2-0 at 43:04 after a nice play by Skip Birdsong to keep the ball in bounds along the right touchline. He got the ball to Dan Terrell at the side of the goal. Terrell slid it in front to Weathers, who had Anderson at his mercy. Van Buskirk scored at 67:45 on a header off Chad Lignou's long free kick.

"Chad has just been blasting it from everywhere," said Van Buskirk. "He'll put it right on your head."

"Chad has worked a lot at that," said Baker. "His work habits are good in practice, which is something we need more of. We needed some work after Saturday, particularly on our defensive wall."

The Tigers never seriously threatened to score as Ron O'Sha played the whole game in goal and got his fourth shutout.

"Granite City puts a lot of pressure on you and makes you play faster than you want," said Dwyer. "When we were able to settle down, we could move the ball a little. But we never really penetrated their defense."

Still, Dwyer's not ready to concede the Warriors a trip to Palatine.

"It's wide open in our area this year," he said. "We didn't do too badly tonight. They got a couple of goals on restarts, which they're famous for."

"The big thing we improved on tonight was we didn't let a good team score," said Van Buskirk. "We just have to settle the ball, make square passes and beat the other team to the outside and we'll be all right."

If they do that, then win No. 400 will come for real tonight.

was a rerun of the opening match. Granite City lost a 4-2 lead as the Tigers rattled off 11 of the next 12 points to take a 13-5 lead. Tammi Isenberg (four points) and Cheryl Aherns (seven points) fueled the attack from the setter position.

But this time Melissa Dorsey took center stage with her performance around the net. The junior dominated the Lady Warriors by producing six kills.

"I'm not totally unhappy with our season," said Buster. "The girls did their best for being a young unit. But the foundation has been laid for next year. We're only losing one player (Carrie Bohnenstiel) and the girls picked up a lot of experience this season. So when they come in next year we'll just refine their skills. The kids know our philosophy and they'll know me better and what I expect from them."
